STUDENTS STAND FOR 24 HOURS TO SUPPORT CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Have you ever stood for 24 hours straight? Probably not. That is, unless you're a student at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill involved in Carolina For The Kids.

On Friday, March 22nd, hundreds of U-N-C students stood for 24 hours in support of patients and families of U-N-C Children's hospital.

Dance Marathon is an annual event hosted by Carolina For The Kids. It serves as a celebration of the year's fundraising efforts.

The 24-hour party is complete with hedgehogs, Zumba [ZOOM-buh] classes, and a sunrise walk around Kenan [KEY-nan] Memorial Stadium. There's also a talent show starring the children served by the hospital.

Students can join the fun by signing up at carolina-F-T-K-dot-org.

This year, the students raised over 440 thousand dollars. Learn more about their work and how to get involved by visiting carolina-F-T-K-dot-org.
